Electro-Matic Products, Inc. Announces Affiliation with INTERCONTEC Produkt GmbH

Farmington Hills, MI - Electro-Matic Products, Inc. proudly announces its new relationship with INTERCONTEC, a valued partner of international leading automation companies. The new agreement between INTERCONTEC and Electro-Matic Products expands Electro-Matic's diverse product portfolio with the addition of a complete range of circular connectors for industrial applications. "INTERCONTEC's products perfectly complement our existing connectivity products offering as their patented product design combines functional construction advantages, ease of use and a unique appearance", argues Mario Barraco, Connectivity Products Manager at Electro-Matic Products, Inc. "It is our goal to become our customers' First Choice in the market", explains Jim Baker, President of Electro-Matic Products, Inc. "The agreement with INTERCONTEC will significantly support us by broadening our existing product offering with innovative and application oriented industrial connector solutions."

INTERCONTEC Produkt GmbH was founded by Wolfgang Pfeiffer in 1996. Application oriented research and development is one of our key competences. We are designing, testing and producing every single connector at our company headquarters in Niederwinkling. All prototypes or refinements, e.g. for customized solutions, are build and tested in our internal workshop. This „combined“ know how allows us to realize various connector innovations for our customers within a relatively short time – and makes us an acknowledged partner in automation technology.
